

GREAT STIR AT FEZ OVER NEW SULTAN

Holy War Has Been Declared, and Great Danger of Lawless
Outbreaks and a Massacre.

FRANCE AND SPAIN DISTURBED

Must Recognize Abd-El-Aziz So Long as He Holds the Official Reins.

Mulai-Hafid, the brother of the Sultan of Morocco, Abd-El-Aziz, who some months ago was proclaimed Sultan at Morocco City, was proclaimed Sultan at Fez on January 4th, the Sultan of record having been formally deposed. The latest reports state that Fez is in an uproar, and that there is great danger of lawless outbreaks and a massacre. Couriers are now on their way to Morocco City to summon Mulai-Hafid to Fez, as it is understood that he will receive strong support as Sultan on condition that he meets the demands of the people, which include the abolition of taxes and the suspension of all relations with Europeans.

The French government is greatly wrought up about the proclamation of Mulai-Hafid as Sultan, and the declaration of a holy war at Fez, France and Spain, acting officially for the powers, must recognize Abd-El-Aziz as the legitimate Sultan so long as the official government remains in his hands.

But Mulai-Hafid in the past year has shown unexpected strength in the development of his forces, and the present situation means the indefinite prolongation of the stay of the French and the Spanish troops in Morocco.

Much antagonism has been aroused against Abd-El-Aziz because of his close relations with the Europeans, and it was because of this friendly association that Mulai-Hafid and his followers were able to arouse the fanaticism of the Southern Moors. It is reported that even the imperial troops at Fez have announced their allegiance to the newly-proclaimed Sultan. The French and Spanish governments are, therefore, already taking steps to increase the policing force at the various coast cities where Europeans would be in the most danger.

HOLY WAR PROCLAIMED.

This follows Proclamation of Mulai Hafid, Sultan at Fez.

TANGIER, MOROCCO, Jan. 11.—Mulai Hafid was on Jan. 4 proclaimed sultan at Fez, one of the capitals of Morocco, and a holy war has been proclaimed. Unverified reports to this effect have been in circulation for a day or two, but to-day official confirmation of them was received. Mulai Hafid, who some months ago was proclaimed sultan at Morocco City, was not present at Fez, and his uncle, Mulai Saramili, was made vice-regent pending his arrival there. Abd-El-Aziz, the sultan of record, was formally deposed from the sultanate. The proclamations were issued at the principal mosque, and all the Moorish formalities attending such ceremonies were scrupulously observed. The Ulemas, or body of Mohammedan scholars, interpret the Koran of the Choffas tribes, and the city officials were the principal leaders in the movement.

The followers of Mulai Hafid made use of the decision of Abd-El-Aziz to cooperate with France and Spain in the execution of the terms of the Algerias act and the installation of an international police force in the coast towns of Morocco to arouse the fanaticism of the Southern Moors.

Abd-El-Aziz was represented as having sold himself to the Christians, as having connived at the invasion of the sacred soil of Morocco by Europeans and as being ready to turn the country over to the foreigners.

Further advice reached here from Fez state that Mulai-Hafid was proclaimed Sultan on condition that he abolish taxation, make an alliance with the Sultan of Turkey and suppress all relations with Europeans except those "prescribed by customs and rules." Couriers have been dispatched to Morocco City to summon Mulai-Hafid to Fez. That city is reported to be in an uproar. The residents are armed and are fearful lest outbreaks of pillage or a massacre occur.

SAVES FORTUNE FROM WAGES.

Teamster Paid $12 a Week Retires With $50,000 Laid By.

DANVERS, MASS., January 11.—Henry H. West, of this town, retired from active service as teamster for a wire company here to-day at the age of ninety years, after having accumulated $50,000, saved from his wages of $12 a week. West had been in the employ of the company for the last forty years, and in that time has not been absent from work a single day. Previous to taking the position with the wire company he worked for other concerns, always as a teamster.

He is hale and hearty and retires not because he is unable to continue work, but because he feels that he is entitled to a little easier time for the rest of his days.

SHOW CLOSES THURSDAY

Single-Comb White Leghorns
Easily the Best and Largest Class—Prize-Winners.

Daily increasing crowds are following with a great deal of interest the exhibition of the Virginia Poultry Show at the old Bijou Theatre. It is the unanimous opinion of all who attend that this is by far the best display of its kind ever seen in the South, and that it is easily equal to any of the large Northern shows.

The exhibits fill the immense space of the building, and the style of coops and their arrangement are especially to be commended.

Single comb white leghorns are easily the best and largest class, approximating 150 birds, while the brown leg-horns, with perhaps half the number of entries, show up well. Almost every other variety of fowl is represented. The judging, under Mr. Wittman, of Allentown, Pa., has been most satisfactory.

Some Special Prizes.

Special prizes and trophies donated yesterday were as follows:

Silver cup, donated by the "American Hen," Harrisonburg, Va., for the best hen and pullet in the entire show, to F. S. Bullington, Richmond.

Purina cup, donated by the Ralston Purina Company, for the best bird fed on Purina food, to Mr. A. M. Black, Tazewell, Va.

"Modern Farming" cup, for the best display in the American class, Ellerson Poultry Yards, Ellersburg, Va., J. W. Quarles, proprietor.

Cup for best display, single comb brown leghorns, offered by the Virginia breeders to Strawberry Hill Poultry Yards.

Cup offered by the American Brown Leghorn Club, for best display single comb brown leghorns, Strawberry Hill Poultry Yards.

Cup offered by the American White Leghorn Breeders for best display of single comb white leghorns, S. S. Stansbury, Richmond.

THE BIG STORE'S Midwinter Reduction Sales

Focus the Attention of Every Practical Money-Saver!

Singular Bargains—Significance distinguishes these Stock-Reducing Events of the Big Store. They deal solely and exclusively with apparel of class and character, the notable Price-Concessions controlling our own regular stocks, absolutely not a dollar's worth of "bought for the purpose" merchandise being involved. It is a Stock-Reducing Measure, plain and simple, but of most gigantic proportions. A few words comprise the whys and wherefores.

"Stocks Bigger Than We Care to Have Them"—and hence this Reckless Sacrificing—this Record-Breaking, Value-Giving Bargain Event—which is already the topic of conversation throughout this whole community and which appeals with renewed and irresistible Bargain Magnetism to the Buying Public.

WELL SUPPLIED WITH SILVER SPOONS

A Petersburg Policeman Shoots and Captures an Interesting
Seaboard Passenger.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., January 11.—A young negro, who gives his name as Jefferson L. McCoy, and says he is from Westmoreland county, Va., jumped from a southbound Seaboard Air Line passenger train at the Dunlop Street station, about 1:30 o'clock last night, and when seen by Police Officer Gallion took to his heels in the dark, refusing to heed the order to halt, given by the officer, who thereupon fired. The fugitive dropped to the ground with a scream, and the policeman, supposing that he was seriously wounded, summoned Dr. W. P. Hoy, who ordered that the wounded man be taken to the Petersburg Hospital, where an examination revealed only a slight skin wound in the back under the right shoulder-blade, the bullet, after penetrating his overcoat, sweater and other clothing, having inflicted only a glancing wound.

Thirty-nine silver spoons, many of them bearing initials, were found in the pockets of the negro, who declares that he bought them in Washington for 25 cents, and was on his way from that city to Charleston, S. C., where he intended to give the spoons to his grandmother. The boy was stealing a ride on the Seaboard train, and jumped off when discovered as the train pulled into the Dunlop Street station.

He gives No. 1215 K Street, Washington, D. C., as his address, and is being held by the police for an investigation of the case.
